Crazy 80's Golf & Dance

All of us who were old enough to choose our own clothing and dress ourselves during the 1980's should take a moment to pause and reflect. What were we thinking? The 80s were the era fashion forgot. For a long time, golf was stuck in a 1980s sand trap. The clothes were ridiculously baggy and lumpy.

Few players stood out for their attire in the 80s, with the exception of the late Payne Stewart, who stepped into a fashion time machine, wearing plus fours, shirt and ties, calling it his contribution to preserving the history of the game.

Help us preserve the history of the 80's!!
80's fads

Boom Boxes The "ghetto blaster." The portable radio, with two speakers as a minimum, the heavier and the bigger, the better.

Rubik Cube The toy that was a real pain in the butt to solve, unless you peeled the stickers or pulled it apart.

Skateboarding Skateboarding really hit a peek in popularity during the 80s, it seemed like everyone was doing it at one point.

Trivial Pursuit The game that made people start memorizing useless crap in order to win. Probably one of the biggest crazes when it came out though.

Video Arcades There are arcades now, but during the 80s, they were the in place to hangout. Wrestling Although it has made a comeback in recent years, nothing even compares with the classic years of the WWF, and the NWA.
